

HEIW statement for dental professionals attending face to face events

Following Welsh Government guidelines, we have taken all reasonable steps to ensure the safety of staff and delegates attending face to face events.

Every effort will be made to maintain 2m social distancing and it is very important you follow this guidance at all times.

You must wear a mask or face covering. This is now a legal requirement in Wales.

You should also continue to wash your hands frequently or use hand sanitiser gel.

You should only attend if completely well, and if any symptoms of viral illness it would be advisable to remain at home. The same is true if you have been informed that you may be a contact of a case.

If you are living or working in a local lockdown area then you should not attend any courses outside of this area.

Where clinical skills training is taking place specific measures and risk assessments are in place to manage this and you will be contacted ahead of the event.
